

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

At the church in North Foster Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock funeral services for George Henry Angell, veteran of the Civil war, were conducted by Rev. George H. Watts of East Providence, state missionary for Rhode Island. The service was impressive. During its progress the musical numbers were Lead Kindly Light, Saved by Grace, Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching, and Tenthing on the Old Camp Ground. The bearers were Silas O. Spink, Elmer Stone, Walter Simmons and Harry Perkins. Burial was in North Foster cemetery. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

The Henry Myers five-room cottage, located on Railroad street, Danielson, will be sold at auction Saturday, this week, at 3 p. m. rain or shine. Witter Bros., auctioneers, 45 Main street, Danielson, Conn., adv.

Blair and Allison will be the forwards and Danny Murphy and Jack Murphy the guards, with Scotty Higgins at center. When Manager Bob Pelletier's Connecticut Mills team lines up against the Pawtucket Tigers for the opening basketball game of the season in town hall tonight, Manager Pelletier says he is prepared to give Danielson and surrounding communities as near top notch basketball as can be seen in New England if the patronage warrants during the season now opening.

It has been announced that the house to house canvass for Red Cross memberships in the annual roll call drive of the Danielson chapter will continue through to Saturday, instead of terminating today (Thanksgiving day) as was originally planned. It has been found impossible to make all the visitations by today, so the period has been extended.

normal supply of coal will be delivered in Danielson during the coming winter season, Fuel Administrator Frederick E. Cullen stated Wednesday morning. This prediction also is backed by various authorities on prospective coal supply. In the meantime the community has come through November without great hardship, though the shortage of fuel has been more or less inconvenient for many who have heating plants in which only anthracite coal has been used heretofore. Many are unfamiliar with methods of using soft coal or wood to best advantage in heaters; hence the inconvenience.

It would appear at the present time that the consumption of coal in Danielson will not run much over 50 per cent. of normal in this town the coming winter. In ordinary years several hundred tons would have been burned at this date. As the restriction on supply is to continue throughout the winter, it may be assumed that the total consumption for the present cold weather period will not be much over half what usually is the amount.

This may or may not mean money saved for fuel buyers. In some cases good firemen hope to make a saving, seeing they have arrived almost at December 1, with a low fuel cost record. Word has been received here of the death at Season hospital in New York of Mrs. Louise Rosenzweig Raymond, formerly a resident in Westminister, in this county, and for a time in the employ of Frederick I. Racine of Reynolds. Mrs. Raymond died on Thursday of last week after a brief illness. She leaves a daughter, Simona, and her mother and several brothers and sisters.

Under the auspices of the Civic Federation, a drive to place Christmas seals will be inaugurated here on Friday of this week, slightly overlapping on the Red Cross annual roll call drive. This will not matter, however, to hundreds who appreciate the tremendous amount of good for suffering humanity that is accomplished with the money obtained from the sale of the seals. Eighty-five per cent. of the money derived from the sale of the seals will remain in the treasury of the Civic Federation, which maintains a tuberculosis clinic in Danielson, a district nurse and other charitable enterprises.

One hears much talk right now of a prospective change in postmasters in Danielson about the first of the coming year. Postmaster Raymond Allen, who has given a highly efficient service, is among the candidates for re-appointment, but the rumor persists that a change is impending. Several 'candidates' are understood to be seeking the appointment.

It is announced by Rev. Albert Jensen that Rev. Rev. Chauncey Bunker Brewster, bishop of Connecticut, will come to St. Alban's church January 14 to administer the rite of confirmation. In preparation for the coming of the bishop, Rev. Mr. Jensen is to give confirmation instruction to girls and boys Wednesday evening.

This Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock there is to be a prayer and praise service at the Baptist church. Rev. J. W. Houck, the pastor, has extended an invitation to the public to attend this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Franklin Wood of Cambridge are visiting for the holiday with Mr. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wood of Academy street.

Mrs. George Stone of Academy street has as holiday guests Mrs. Ida Newell of Salem, Lewis Newell of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Fulton of Lynn, Donald Stone of Providence and Raymond Stone of Bedford Springs, Mass.

John Dunn of Bridgeport and Frank Dunn of Worcester are spending the holiday with their mother, Mrs. James J. Dunn of North Main street.

A number of Dayville people will be at Putnam this morning to attend the wedding at St. Mary's church of Frank Billings of Dayville and Miss Hortense Auger of Putnam.

Miss Helen Cronin, who is attending college in New York state, is spending the holiday season at her home in Danielson.

Get your mail early this morning. The post office will be operated today on a holiday schedule of hours.

The football game between Killingly High school and Putnam High school on the Quinebaug grounds will be the first entertainment feature of today's varied program. The game is to be played this morning.

Mrs. W. A. Stanton of Broad street will have members of the Woman's Missionary society of the Baptist church at her home for a meeting Friday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Fiske is spending the holiday day with her aunt, Mrs. Warren B. Williams of Chop Mist hill at Seaside, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDermott of Putnam are spending the holiday with Mr. McDermott's brothers, on High street.

Mrs. E. H. Keach will have members of the Civic federation at her home on Broad street for a meeting tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.

In commenting on the first anniversary of the institution of a savings department by the Danielson Trust company, Treasurer Clifford H. Starlowe says that deposits in excess of $250,000 have been obtained from more than 1500 depositors.

Robert Dori is quite seriously ill at the home of Arthur W. Williams of Broad street.

Call out the king's guard—King George's guard; litter of both cats is reported in the Keutuck region near East Killingly, and anyone who knows the territory would not be surprised if a caribou were reported roaming those wilds.

PUTNAM

In the city court before Judge M. H. Gelseler Wednesday morning, Theophile Gauthier, 48, was presented to answer to a charge of attempted rape upon the person of a girl 14 years of age. Gauthier entered a plea of not guilty, but the cause was found for holding him for trial at the January term of the superior court for this county and his bond was fixed at $500.

John H. Geeson, holder of the mortgage on the Pomfret Manor Inn property, said Wednesday morning that an examination of his insurance policies shows that the mansion was covered for $10,000 and the furniture for $2,000. An additional $2,500 coverage on the barn, which was not damaged in the fire. The insurance was written through a local agency.

Two weddings in which there is much local interest are scheduled for today. Thanksgiving day, at St. Mary's church. At 9 o'clock this morning Miss Beatrice Gagnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gagnon of South Main street, will become the bride of John Gahan, Jr., also of South Main street.

At 3:30 Miss Hortense Auger, daughter of Mrs. Oscar Counter of this city will be united in marriage with Frank Billings of Dayville. Many guests will participate, numbers coming from out of town.

The Windham House committee for Connecticut college has announced the receipt of two generous gifts recently. The first was a check for $100 from Alrich Brothers, manufacturers at Moosup, received through Miss Evelyn Cranska, chairman for Plainfield. The second was the sum of $75 raised by the Chaplin committee of which Mrs. Merritt Welch is chairman. This amount was realized at a harvest supper where 250 people were served, this in Chaplin, probably the smallest town in Windham county.

The Windham House committee, of which Mrs. J. B. Kent is chairman for Putnam, was organized several years ago to raise funds to build at Connecticut College for Women at New London a dormitory to be named Windham House in honor of this county. The fund now amounts to over $20,500.

Wednesday morning the work of removing the brick that makes the north wall and coping of the First National bank building was inaugurated. The entire north wall of the present structure is to be taken out that the remodelled building may be extended out to the property line. The Putnam Savings bank, still occupying its quarters on the second floor of the building, will remove this week end to the temporary quarters being made ready for it in Union street.

A decided increase of the number of passengers traveling on trains running through this city was noted Wednesday especially during the afternoon and evening. This was the beginning of the holiday rush, which seemed to be quite heavy this year, more so than was the case at Thanksgiving time in 1921.

Football, dances, basketball and picture shows are listed among the diversions available for those who will want Thanksgiving day entertainment in this territory. This morning the Putnam High School football team will journey to Danielson for its final game of the year, meeting Killingly High School's team on the Quinebaug grounds. When these

Work is continuing on the rebuilding of the state highway between this city and Pomfret. The undertaking is a large one and has been in progress for months. A heavy rock base is being built on the surface of the old state highway and it has the appearance of ability to withstand all traffic to which it may be subjected. It is not likely that the new highway will break through as was the case with the old state highway during the past winter.

Tomorrow brings December—and at least one disappointment. Putnam's supply of coal remains short, although there was a forecast six weeks ago that plenty of the fuel would be available all through this territory with the coming of the last month of the year. Unhappily, this prediction has not been realized.

Automobile drivers have had their first experience of the season with icy highways. The first light snow storm resulted in making the roads icy in some places, though the condition did not long endure.

Mrs. Leon Talbot was reported resting comfortably Wednesday at the Day Kimball hospital, where she underwent a successful operation for appendicitis on Tuesday.

Miss Katherine T. Thayer of Mt. St. Joseph's Seminary, Hamilton Heights, Hartford, came here Wednesday afternoon to spend the holiday period with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Thayer of Pleasant street.

Legislators-elect hear of a conference to be held by party leaders in about two weeks to make arrangements for committee appointments for the 1923 session of the legislature, opening the first Tuesday in January.

Judge E. M. Warner, clerk of the superior court, was in Williamantic Wednesday attending a short calendar session.

Numbers here will adopt the plan of having their Thanksgiving dinner at hotels today. This practice is in growing favor because it relieves the housewife of much labor and, many hold, effects a saving in cash.

A holiday schedule of hours will be in force at the post office today and the usual holiday arrangements relative to restricted city deliveries will be observed.

Howard A. Williams of Worcester arrived here Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with friends.

Harold E. Corbin, for years engaged in newspaper work in this city and for several years past a member of the city staff of a Worcester daily, has been appointed editor of a Sunday paper of the Hearst group being established at Syracuse.

Inmates of the town farm will be served a special dinner today and otherwise made to feel something of the joy of Thanksgiving time.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. James F. Looney of Pomfret Manor Inn are making their home here, a family in one of the lodges on the estate.

Links of the Putnam Country club still hold fascination for enthusiastic golfers, who may be seen at the favorite pasture these bustling fall days.

Putnam's banks will be closed today in observance of the holiday.
